OIL BILL FATHERED BY BIG COMPANIES

Introduced in Senate Thursday and now pending in the Senate, a bill to amend the act of March 3, 1909, known as the "Pittman oil bill," is being introduced by Senator Pittman.

The bill provides that the oil lands in the state of Nevada shall be sold in blocks of 160 acres or more, and that the proceeds of the sale shall be used to pay the principal and interest on the public debt of the United States.

It is under the Pittman bill that the Standard, Dutch Shell and other large oil companies have acquired practically all the valuable oil lands in Nevada.

WILD EXTRAVAGANCE

Some voters down in southern Nevada arose in a democratic meeting recently to inquire what Colonel Scruggs, the democratic candidate for governor, did with the 35 sets of snuff straws allotted to him by Newton D. Baker, secretary of war under Woodrow Wilson.

The records show that during the war with Germany there were 26,000 officers in the ordnance department. Colonel Scruggs was one of the 26,000. The records further show that for the 26,000 officers in the ordnance department Secretary Baker ordered 712,510 complete sets of snuff straws, or 36 sets for each officer.

This is but one of the many extravagances for which the people had to pay as a result of the acts of Wilson's war cabinet, a cabinet for which Senator Pittman now stands sponsor.

Another interesting little war order placed by Secretary Baker was for 149,456,611 hard bread cans, to supply an army whose maximum strength was 4,000,000. The records show that of this enormous number only 31,500 ever were used.

HIGHWAY ENGINEERING

An overnight demand for trained men far in excess of properly qualified applicants has resulted from the rapid growth of the newest of the engineering arts, highway construction, according to the highway education board. The board's findings of conditions in the new industry, together with a statement showing the needs of the future, are to be placed before the forthcoming national conference, to which the board has invited government and state highway officials, engineers, educators, executives of automotive industries and other interested persons. The conference will be held at Washington, D. C., Oct. 26 to 28, inclusive.

MEXICAN TAXES

American oil companies operating in Mexico are still at loggerheads with the Mexican federal and state governments. The Mexican appetite for taxes is insatiable and the constitution and laws of the country seem to offer little obstacle to their increase. Apparently the recognition of Mexico by this government will not be an event of the near future.

KINDLY NOTE

The democratic state convention of Michigan officially commended Mr. Ford for his stand on the coal controversy. In other words, they approved Ford's action in throwing 100,000 men out of work in order that his personal income of $500,000 a day might not be lessened.

BUCKHORN OPERATIONS REPORTED AS PLEASING

Work on the Buckhorn property at Stone Cabin, which was recently taken over by the Wilson Divide Mining company, is progressing most favorably, and conditions are now about ripe for a substantial production which will unquestionably follow. The shaft repairs have been made, as well as the drift workings from the 160 level, while a hoist and other needed equipment has been provided. It is expected that E. F. Cullinan, moving spirit in the company, will return from the east within a very short time and at that time plans will be formulated for a comprehensive campaign of mining.
